

NGC hosts popular Carnival 2010 Cook Out

For the third year, NGC hosted its carnival event - a combination Cook-out, Calypso and Ole Mas Competitions. Staff, including retirees, Board Members and specially-invited guests, sampled freshly cooked food, great picong and amazing Calypso lyrics.

The Cook Out

14 Cookout teams were judged by three of the country's finest chefs - Khalid Mohammed of Chaud; Jason Huggins of Jaffa and Tricia Corbin-Olliviere, former sous chef at Solimar and the winner of the Caribbean Chef of the Year 2006.

- NGC's Internal Audit Division won first prizes for their - 'Back in Time Sweet Hand' - Best Drink and Best Dish
- The second - place winners were the Electrical Department for their - 'Punch in Duck' - which also won the Best Meat prize
- Third place Winners were GTD Measurement's Healthaholics - Mora Rice Kebab

The Ole Mas

NGC's Ole Mas Competition brought hearty laughs from the appreciative crowd with teams bringing bigger bands and more picong than ever before.

- Congratulations to Anthony Ramadeen of Environment Health Safety and Security (EHSS). His portrayal of 'Re-Tyred' brought down the house
- Second and Third places respectively went to Antonia Lucky's portrayal of 'Ah Actin Nine Months - Ah due!' and 'MC in Touch', portrayed by Jerome Mc Eachnie
- EHSS copped Best Band, What we go do? followed by 'Taste of NGC' (Accounting) and 'SAP Payment Process' (Finance and Treasury)

Kaiso

The Calypso competition was hotly contested by five calypsonians/groups. Kiegan Bharat retained his Calypso crown for the third year in a row with his song 'Bring it Back'. He was followed by the Triple Whammy ('Kamala J'ouvert Band') and Special Reserve Prophet (Eugene Hoyte) with his rendition of 'Blessed be the God of Israel'.
